

Be part of the M-Link Xperience

M&R is taking the wildly popular M-Link Xperience to trade shows around the world.

Just bring a USB flash drive with any raster-based PNG or PSD image file with transparent background to our next trade show near you—and let us show you what the incomparable M-Link X can do. (Images must be owned by the user or in the public domain.)

We'll print a shirt using your image file. Then you can take your flash drive to other digital printer makers and ask them to print your image. If they're willing, we're certain M-Link X print will prove to be superior in every way. And if they're not willing...well, that says something, too.

M-Link X has the highest print quality and the lowest per-print cost in the industry. And it's fast, printing full-size images on white shirts in an amazing 30 to 45 seconds and full-size images on dark shirts in less than a minute.

And it's superior to printers costing three times as much.

But don't take our word for it when you can watch us print your image on M-Link X. It's an Xperience you won't forget.
